ARMY AND NAVY

Much interest was expressed by army officers in the passage Monday afternoon of a Hay aviation bill by the house of representatives. This measure is regarded by army officers as the most important aviation legislation that has so far been passed by Congress. It provides for at least the nucleus of an effective aeronautic organization in the army, still keeping the aviation business under the control of the signal corps.

The bill provides for an additional enlisted force of 250 men and 60 officers, who will be available for aviation duty. The enlisted men will include such expert mechanics, machinists and other mechanics as are needed to fill out an effective airplane squadron.

According to the general plans now entertained the new division will be divided into comparatively small "squads," and each of these will be provided with fast passenger automobiles for transporting aviators and their mechanics from place to place while there will be heavy trucks, capable of making probably 25 miles an hour, that will carry gasoline and spare parts as well as very much heavier and slower trucks that practically will be machine shops on wheels, capable of making any repairs needed by airplanes in the field.

The bill will now go to the senate, where it there is no unforeseen delay or opposition it is expected to pass within a few days.

The immediate interest in this active development is the prospect of its making active work possible in connection with any operation the government may decide on in Mexico. Lieut. Thomas Milling, who holds the cross-country aviation record in the United States, has just returned from a tour of the European flying fields, where he made a special study of military aviation, both in the machines used and the administrative organizations. Incidentally, he studied what was being done with dirigible balloons both in France and Germany.

Since the naval force has been sent to Vera Cruz four of the navy aviators with military flying boats have been hovering over the city and have gone almost 50 miles inland. There have been five of the army officers available for shore duty in case an expeditionary force was sent inland, and these have been waiting for some weeks at Galveston, but have not yet been sent forward. It has been feared in case active military operations were undertaken in Mexico this country would not have the necessary men either trained or available for training.

The Hay bill provides the necessary addition to the army to make an effective airplane organization. It still will require months of training to get aviators accustomed to the air and trained sufficiently to be of use for military observation, but army officers interested in the development of flying surface say there is now reasonable prospect of having the men and the money available for the new work.

Scarcity of cavalry remounts might prove serious in case of a campaign of any length by the United States forces in Mexico. Capt. W. S. Valentine, commanding the Fort Reno, Okla., remount depot, recently received an order from the war department for 1,200 horses for the Mexican service. He lacked 500 of the required number and was compelled to enter the open market to get them.

If there should be further demand for cavalry horses, the situation might become embarrassing. In peace the horse equipment of the regular army is 20,000, supplied at the rate of about 9,000 a year. A war footing would raise the number to 50,000, to be followed by a new issue every four or six months, making a total consumption of 100,000 to 150,000 horses a year.

The government is perplexed with its cavalry horse problem. Three or four weeks ago there was a shortage of more than 2000 horses, which the remount depots at Fort Reno, Fort Keogh, Mont., and Fort Royal, Va., had not been able to overcome.

The cavalry type of horse has for years been disappearing in the United

BOY SCOUTS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WAILUKU, Maui, June 5.—Maui Boy Scouts are now on the map, and James A. Wilder is coming to Maui next Tuesday to prove the fact to his satisfaction.

Last Monday evening at Paunene club house an enthusiastic meeting of the men was held in regard to forming a council for the Paunene troop. Some ten men signified their intention of joining a council to give it a good start off. C. C. Campbell, Dan Quill, Antone Gomes and J. S. Medeiros were elected members of the council. This week Saturday afternoon the boys of Paunene will have their first lesson in boy scouting by the members of the Cuckoo patrol No. 1 troop. This troop was formally organized in Wailuku this week, all the boys having passed their first examination, and thus becoming tenderfoots. The Cuckoo patrol will meet in a body at the Alexander house gymnasium, their Wailuku headquarters, and go to Paunene for the giving of the lesson.

On Wednesday evening last the second meeting of the Wailuku council was held at the office of Dr. McLaren at the gymnasium. Brother Frank, principal of St. Anthony's boys' school, was elected a member of the Wailuku council. It was decided to send out circular letters asking that the men of Wailuku become honorary members of the American Boy Scouts, Wailuku division. It is expected that the honorary list of members in Wailuku will be a large one, as the interest in the movement here is keen and everybody is taking hold.

The Alexander house gymnasium committee voted that the building should be at the disposal of the Boy Scout Movement for Wailuku, and headquarters, if so desired, for the whole of Maui. One corner of the second story is being reserved for this special work for the boys. It is very likely that within a few days a second patrol will be organized, as new applications are coming in daily.

PROLONGING LIFE BRIGHTS DISEASES

It is hard for physicians who have had nothing but failure in chronic Bright's Disease to believe that there is such a thing as recovery and many honestly feel that patients reporting recoveries under Fulton's Renal Compound are but temporarily benefited. Let us refer to the case of the daughter of the late N. W. Spaulding, former U. S. sub-treasurer of San Francisco.

After her father "had spent ten thousand dollars" in efforts to cure her and the dropsy came and the end looked near she was put on Fulton's Renal Compound. To use the words of the physician, let us say that she was "temporarily benefited." She must now stretch "temporary" to twenty years, for it was twenty years ago, and she was living and attending to her household duties at last advice, in January, 1914.

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to oppose Renal Degeneration and reduce albumen in many cases of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS, and we will mail formula for albumen test that will show the percentage from week to week. As the albumen declines improvement commonly follows, recoveries having been reported in thousands of cases. Send for formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co. Ask for pamphlet—advertisement.

HILLO NOTES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
HILO, June 5.—Several changes among the Japanese newspapers have occurred the last few days, the sons of Nippon in this section now having the privilege of selecting from two Japanese dailies and one weekly. The Kaiman Shimpu, Editor Z. Hayakawa, which has been conducted for some time as a daily, last Friday purchased the plant of the Shokumin Shinbun, the property of the late D. K. Aguchi, and may move into the quarters occupied by that paper. It is understood Editor Hayakawa intends continuing his publication daily, and on an enlarged scale, but is thinking of changing the name, though the last-mentioned detail is uncertain as yet.

The Hilo Shimpu, which to date has been appearing three times a week, is to enter the daily field today. The information is that this is made possible by reducing the size of the sheet from eight to four pages. Hagiwara is the editor. S. K. Kubo is a newcomer in the local Japanese weekly field with his Hawaii Times, which issued its first edition last week.

Only about one-fifteenth of Canada's estimated water power has been developed.

In some parts of Germany and Switzerland churches are heated with electricity.

States. When men now grown were boys the saddle horse was bred throughout the country. But farmers no longer want the light horse, and are now breeding horses that can pull heavy loads, not only on the farm but also in the cities. The draft horse brings more money and is more easily raised than the saddle horse.

Not until the Boer war did the United States army officers awake to the fact that the cavalry horse was disappearing so rapidly as to threaten the efficiency of the service. Great Britain ransacked the United States for the light type horse and sent shiploads after shiploads to the Transvaal.

Gen. J. B. Aleshire, then quartermaster-general, proposed that Congress obtain the use of abandoned military posts for army remount depots. Fort Reno was the first established and the largest, having about 10,000 acres, of which half are used for farm purposes.
